

Fundraising for Refugees

Sarah: Hi Michael! I just wanted to thank you again for taking up the speaker job for our fundraising event for the Afghanistan refugees.

Michael: My pleasure, Sarah. After all, my two and half years of living in Afghanistan need to come in handy for something. So, I'm very glad for this opportunity. I also think that you ladies are taking up a much harder job.

Sarah: Thanks Michael. We have collected most of the used sporting goods on the list that people signed up for. I just have to contact the last few families on the list. My friends who oversee the bake sale are doing great too. We can serve you a slice of freshly baked pie on Saturday.

Michael: Ooh! Delicious! Make sure you have a cup of strong Americano to go with it! Just kidding! I sounded a bit entitled, didn't I?!

Sarah: Not at all. You'll have it, sir! Pie with Americano it is! We do look forward to your talk, Michael!

Michael: You bet, Sarah! Me too!

-
- Americano
 - Espresso
 - Latte
 - Mocha
 - Cappuccino
-

Tongue twister: supercalifragilisticexpialidocious