

Wow! Congrats!

Sarah: Matthew, how exciting! Congratulations on getting into the Brown/RISD Dual Degree Program!

Matthew: Thanks Sarah! Yes I'm very very lucky! I know, there are so many peers who I consider are just so much more talented but aren't as lucky as me. So I'm humbled but very very thankful.

Sarah: Give yourself some credit, Matthew. To this day, my daughter still remembers the time you came into their class and taught them how to fold origami cranes.

Matthew: Oh yeah, I forgot about that. It was fun. We did that after they studied the novel "Sadako and the Thousand Paper Cranes." How time flies!

Sarah: Well, I'm just so excited for you, Matthew. Do you have your new student orientation coming up or have they changed its schedule?

Matthew: Thanks for mentioning it. I need to reply to that. Yes, it's scheduled for the beginning of September now. So nice to hear from you Sarah. I appreciate all your help over the years.

Sarah: I've done little. So proud of you and wish you all the best, Matthew. Keep me posted about your life.

Matthew: Thanks Sarah. I will!
